

KwangShin

PET BOTTLE BLOWING COMPRESSORS

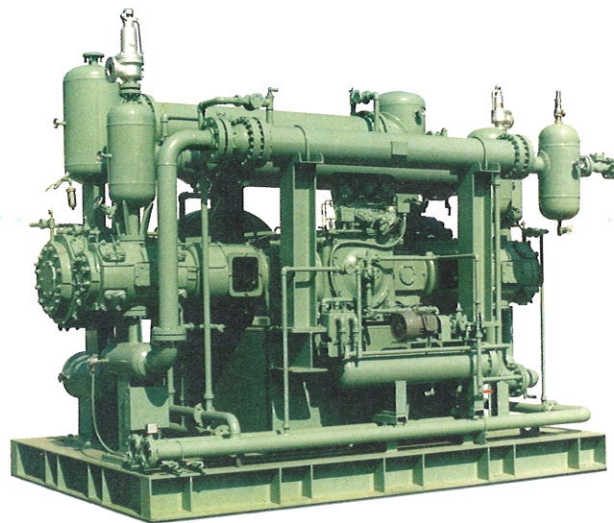

KwangShin
Dependable Compressors

KWANGSHIN

P.E.T Blowing Air Compressors

KwangShin has over 50 years of experience designing and manufacturing reciprocating-type compressors for air and gas applications in oil and gas production, petroleum refining and many other industries as well as PET blowing industry. Since after the foundation, over 6,000 Kwangshin air and gas compressors have been installed in various industries, including food and beverage industry around the World. KwangShin compressors have been well received because they are custom designed and optimized for each individual application. KwangShin will be there whenever and wherever new applications and new markets require excellent compressor technology.

Why KwangShin compressor package?

- Customized design per any given requirement

Suitable for various design condition individually required by clients

- Verified global capability and Perfect quality control

More than a half century accumulated in house design and fabrication experiences and more than thousands compressors delivered in all over the world.

- Perfect performance test

It won't leave our factory unit any product is perfectly tested and certified.

- Timely provided After service

Well organize and rapid spare part supply chain.